

President's Corner

Gratitude for the Journey

As I step down from my role as president of EWTG, I want to take a moment to express my heartfelt gratitude for the incredible journey we have shared over the past two years. It's remarkable how quickly time has flown by, and I am grateful for every moment I've spent working alongside such passionate and dedicated individuals.

Leading this organization has been an honor and a privilege. Together, we have achieved significant milestones and fostered a supportive community that nurtures growth and inspires us to reach our fullest potential. The commitment and enthusiasm you all bring to our mission truly sets us apart.

In 2023, our focus was finding the leader in you. Our conference keynote speaker, Rebecca Contreras, presented "Leading with Resolve." I also received the esteemed honor of being named Woman of the Year. That moment is etched in my brain.

This year, we are "Planting the Seeds of a Great Leader." Our keynote speaker, Kendra Speed, will present "From Seeds to Harvest: The Success that Leadership Yields." I'm so excited to have Ms. Speed as our keynote speaker. She is energetic and will get you thinking about how you can exalt your leadership skills.

This year is EWTG's 40th anniversary. Ms. Claudia Stravato, a founding member, will attend the conference this year. She is pleased that EWTG is still a vibrant and working organization.

I sincerely appreciate your trust in me and your encouragement throughout my tenure. It has been a time of learning, collaboration, and, most importantly, friendship. I am proud of what we have accomplished together and excited to see where the next chapter will lead.

I wish the incoming leadership team all the best as they take the reins. I have confidence that this organization's passion and dedication will continue to thrive and evolve.

Thank you once again for an unforgettable experience. Let's stay connected as we continue to support one another in our endeavors.

Submitted by Theresa McShan
EWTG President, 2023-2024